Play Group Revamps

The Palette, Masque and Lyre acting group is scheduled to meet tonight (Thursday) at the high school at 7:30. After a long period of inactivity, the group is being reorganized for the coming season. Representatives of the group Dr. Kopriwa and Kenneth Smouse of ATHS's Fine Arts Department hope that enough interest in the play group has been sustained by former members in order to make up a substantial organization.

Plays done in the past by the group include "The Tender Trap" and the "1961 Centennial Pageant."

This season will most likely be planned out at tonight's meeting and possibly three productions will be slated for presentation.

Among the productions currently under discussion are "Teahouse of the August Moon," "Mr. Roberts" and a musical production.

All of those persons interested in participating in acting, scene designing and all facets of production are asked to contact Kenneth Smouse at the high school.

Resident Buys Local Nitery

Nick Badame, present owner of Nick's Town Plaza and the Antioch Cab company, has recently acquired Bussie's Key Lounge. The new name to be given to the business will be "Weasel's Lounge."

General improvements of the lounge are anticipated by Badame, who expects to move his pizza concern into the tavern. The new proprietor stated that he intended to operate "a nice, clean place."

Badame, who has resided in Antioch for over six years, has three children, and is a well known businessman in the area. His wife, Ellen, is expected to assist him in the business.

"I've wanted to own a tavern ever since I came to Antioch," Badame stated. He previously owned several pubs in Chicago.

The lounge is expected to be open over the weekend. As a point of interest, Badame served with MacArthur's invasion army which liberated the Philippines in 1944, being one of those to help recapture Corregidor.

Fires Hit Local Area

Robert H. Hart's residence located on Grass Lake Road suffered two grass fires last Sunday and Monday, according to Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen. Neither fire, it was reported, amounted to extensive damage.

Another grass fire, in which two of the department's jeeps were used, was also located on Grass Lake Road. The fire took place Friday at 2:45 p.m.

Simonsen also reported a fire in the home of Tom Harley on Trevor Road last Sunday at 6:50 p.m. Cause of the fire was attributed to an overheated stove.

"Grass fires this year are fewer because people are getting more conscious of them," Simonsen stated. "The big snow this year prevented excessive dryness and reduced possibilities of fire."

RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

Lloyd "Red" Murrie, present Antioch Township Supervisor, was recently re-appointed to the Lake County Liquor Commission. He is also a member of the Lake County Offices & Public Works Committee.

State Representative Robert Coulson of Waukegan, has formally announced his intention to seek the Republican nomination for State Senator from the 52nd District in a special election is called by Gov. Otto Kerner.

The possibility of a special election for the state legislator post was set up when State Senator Robert McClary topped a field of eight candidates for the Republican nomination for U. S. Representative from the 12th Congressional District, and then announced that he would resign the senate position he has held since 1952.

Rep. Coulson, who ran second in the Congressional race, despite leading the field in Lake County, said he will campaign for the office on the basis of his experience in the Illinois General Assembly.

"There will be a great deal of important legislation coming before the next session of the Illinois General Assembly and the people of Lake, McHenry and Boone Counties are entitled to the most experienced legislature representation they can get to act on this legislation," Rep. Coulson asserted.

"Three of the bills now being prepared were drafted jointly by Sen. McClary and myself," Rep. Coulson revealed, adding, "and they will need experienced and understanding backing if they are to be enacted into law."

Rep. Coulson explained that two of the laws were urged by the Lake County Safety Commission and the other concerns special education needs in the state.

Rep. Coulson, who drew a surprisingly light vote in Boone and McHenry counties in the April 10 balloting said, "If there is a contest for the nomination I expect to campaign vigorously in the western part of the district even though the recent primary would indicate that I will be risking life and limb to do so."

Rep. Coulson's campaign was given a boost last week when Mundelein Mayor John J. Noel, who had indicated an interest in seeking the nomination, withdrew in favor of the former Waukegan mayor and urged the voters of the 52nd District to nominate and elect Coulson.

Culvert Is Hit By Car

Joseph P. Kutis, 42, of Chicago, was thrown from his car in an accident that happened on Rte. 173, a half mile west of Highway 45 last Saturday at 5:53 p.m.

Kutis stated that he had just passed a car in front of him and was pulling back into his lane when he went straight off the shoulder of the road where his left front wheel struck a culvert. The impact of the crash caused him to be thrown from his car.

Reason for the accident was attributed to the fact that Kutis could not straighten out his wheel.

Kutis suffered no injuries and was not given a citation. The report was made by Deputy James Repp of the Lake County Sheriff's Office.

Two Cars In Crash

The Lake County Sheriff's Office recently reported that a two-car accident occurred on Rte. 173, 2 1/2 miles west of Rte. 59 last Friday at 4 p.m.

Involved in the accident was Larry Holstrom, 18, of Antioch, one passenger, his father, George Holstrom, and Clarence Wise of Chicago.

Holstrom was proceeding east on Rte. 173 when he was sideswiped by Wise who was going west. The Holstrom car suffered damages to the left side and rear.

No injuries were sustained by the parties concerned and no citation was issued by the Sheriff's squad.

Pubs Checked By Deputies

Deputy James Repp of the Sheriff's Office reported that investigation of underage drinking and gambling was made at the Last Resort, Ranch House and Slide Inn last Friday night.

Officers making the investigation at 11 p.m. were James Repp, Luby, Zupanski, and Bernie Leonard.

The taverns investigated are all in the Antioch area and several reports had been received as to underage drinking being permitted there, it was reported.

Deputy Repp stated that after the investigation had been completed, nothing had been discovered that would indicate gambling or underage drinking. Identification cards of all youths were thoroughly checked.

Carnival Committee Confers Thursday

The Carnival Committee, which is made up of members of the Lions Club, Jaycees, American Legion and various other groups, will meet tonight at the high school at 8 p.m. to discuss the projected plans for the oncoming Antioch Summer Carnival.

Several new suggestions and plans are expected to be considered in lieu of the formerly proposed home show.

General Chairman of the entire program is William Seemann.

Petitioners Request Flood Protection

With Trustee Ernest Glenn on vacation, the community's fathers met last Tuesday night and voted to authorize signature to the $230,000 contract for sewer laterals and mains encompassed in the village's water project.

Authorization came after the members of the board each examined and studied plans for final approval. The contract was let to Kennedy Construction Company of Deerfield.

The other two contracts dealing with the Water Tower and Disposal Plant remained to be put to signature. This is expected to be accomplished at a special meeting sometime next week.

Petition Is Submitted
Dr. George Jensen, representing residents in and about Antioch haying flood problems this year, presented the board with pictures of the recent floods this spring and especially the area east of the Sequoit Creek where waters had backed up over private property.

Of special interest to Dr. Jensen were the culverts bordering both sides of Main Street. He stated that a good deal of the problem for the backup of water to the east had to do with the undersized 5-foot culvert installed by Don Pittman.

When the board suggested that he consult Pittman in order to remedy the situation, Dr. Jensen replied that he had already spoken with him. He added that Pittman blames the village as the original installers.

The board was then given a petition signed by over 60 residents of the village requesting the high water condition repeated every year to be corrected.

M. Cunningham, President, suggested that the petition be put on file after a brief discussion from the board. Trustee Dave Nissen stated that he felt that since the property on which the culvert stands belongs to private concerns, it was the obligation of residents living in the area to assume the responsibility of correcting the problem. The board then concurred in its willingness to help beyond the initial improvement.

Parking Lot Blacktopped
President Cunningham informed the press that in a special meeting last Thursday night, the board decided unanimously to blacktop the village parking lot east of the 24-hour zone. The contract was given to Liberty Asphalt company of Grayslake for $3,300. Chief Edgar Simonsen stated that the job was (Continued on page 3)

Driver Given Ticket
Antioch Police Chief Walter Scott recently reported that a truck was struck while unattended last Monday morning by an out-of-town motorist.

LeRoy Jones, of Buffalo, Indiana, who was driving the truck, had left the vehicle parked on Rte. 173 facing east and just west of Rte. 59.

Carroll W. Brown, 33, of Union Grove, Wis., drove up on the shoulder of the road and hit the truck from behind.

No injuries were sustained but Chief Scott issued a ticket to Brown for negligent driving. The accident occurred at 2:50 a.m.

ATH To Play Host To 8th Grade Visitors
Principal A. L. Dittman of Antioch Township High School recently reported that the faculty would play host to grade schoolers in the area this Friday.

The reason for the "Eighth Grade Visitation Day" would be to interest potential students in attending ATHS. Teachers will address the groups attending throughout an entire schoolday program.

The band, accompanied by 35 parents, left Antioch at 1:30 p.m. Friday and stayed overnight at the Le Claire Hotel in Moline. Saturday night the Band Parent Association gave a supper party for the victorious group at the Faber Hotel in Mendota.

The graduating 8th grade band members received pins in appreciation of their years of service with the group. The band cavaner returned to Antioch about midnight Saturday escorted by the sheriff's and local police.

1000 Trees Planted By Grass Lake Students

By Harry H. Stern

President Richard Waters, Treasurer Dr. George W. Jensen, Ken Miller and Publicity Director Harry H. Stern spent the fore part of the week at the Grass Lake School advising and supervising the planting of over 1000 pine trees on the school grounds. The faculty and students were so enthusiastic about the project that all of the trees were planted in three days. Because of the excellent job turned in by the students, it is expected that over 90% of the trees will take root and grow. This is considered to be a very high rate of survival. Edward C. Cooney assisted the officers in laying out the various plots on the school grounds for planting, and each class from the fifth grade up have their own planting area. In this way there will be friendly rivalry between the students for the most successful and best managed plots.

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club will be host to 85 Boy Scouts from the Antioch area on a field trip to the Kettle Moraine Forest in Wisconsin on May 12. Plans for the safari were finalized at the April 25 meeting of the club at the Channel Lake School. The boys will see the results of reforestation work by school children, as well as modern tree planting methods as practiced by the state.

This is in line with the NICC's established policy of introducing our youth into the conservation movement. There will be a cookout for the boys at the conclusion of the tour. They will be accompanied by their leaders, as well as members of the club, all of whom will be transported by several buses. The boys hail from Troops 80, 88, 91, and 92 in the Antioch area.

The NICC is wrestling with the problem of finding suitable planting areas for schools which do not have sufficient grounds to accommodate the outdoor laboratory program, since teaching the subject without putting it into practice does not bring about the desired results. The Club is investigating the use of some of the newly formed forest preserve areas in the county for this purpose.

State Representative W. J. Murphy was present to report on his investigation into rough fish removal from the Chain of Lakes. More work along these lines will be required to bring this project to an actual conclusion.

EDITORIAL

THE CORRUPTORS

Several irate mothers and fathers have recently complained to us of numerous "teenage booze palaces" serving minors. These teenage hang-outs, nestled secretly off the roadways of the township just outside the village, have, for years, been preying upon the youth of our community like leeches—taking their money and releasing their grasp upon them only after they have drunk themselves into a dangerous state of intoxication.

This situation not only leads to roadway accidents but induces the youth, under the influence of alcohol, to commit grave crimes against their society.

Offering teenagers a wide open place, each of these so-called "honest" establishments, do more to corrupt and vilify the youth of our community than any other sundry influence.

The existence of such places also act as signal towers to bad elements from the Chicago area, guiding them here in pleasure-seeking flocks. This element does its best to destroy and subvert the law and order of our villages and those nearby. Accidents, theft, burglaries and a various assortment of other sordid crimes can be justifiably attributed to this element, and even to those residing in our area.

Upon investigation, we talked to Chief Deputy Charles E. Larson, who is seeking the Sheriff's post this year on the Republican ticket.

Larson stated that "these places have been a thorn in my side for years." He added that whenever one of the establishments was closed by the Lake County Liquor Commission, they appealed to the Liquor Commission in Chicago and were subsequently open for business in a matter of days.

This constant superceding of our laws by downstate politicians does not, we feel, make for an effective regulation to control the sale of liquor to minors. The Chicago say-so is also a slap in the face to our Lake County officials. How these proprietors obtain permission to re-open their dens from Chicago authorities after Lake County deputies have closed them up is perplexing. The system which permits these persons to operate should definitely be investigated both by our legislative bodies in Springfield and the State Attorney's office. Only corruption in high office would allow these lawbreakers to flourish.

Robert Dixon, the new head of the Liquor Commission, stated that he intended to investigate the matter.

Lloyd "Red" Murrie, Antioch Township Supervisor and member of the Liquor Commission, stated that "There are several habitual violators and they are going to be watched very closely."

We hope that the intentions of the public officials materialize into an active condemnation of this tyranny of booze now held over the heads of every youngster in our community, whether he likes it or not.

PENNING THE NEWS:

What is a Newspaper?

First, last and always, a newspaper is a business. Like all other forms of business under our free enterprise system—it is operated to produce a profit. Now if you've ever been in a newspaper office on press day, this statement may come as somewhat of a surprise, but none the less it's true.

The people who staff a newspaper aren't much different from those who work in other businesses. You may notice that they bite their finger nails a little more frequently, or have a little nervous twitch of the arm, or maybe it's that sorrowful sleepy look that sets them apart from others.

At any rate there is a very good explanation for these phenomena. When you realize that they are engaged in writing, editing and printing in a few hours enough material to fill a 100,000 word novel, it may become a little easier to understand.

Keeping in mind the pressure under which your newspaper people work will make your job, and theirs, much easier.

The newspaper deserves your respect but not necessarily your awe; we appreciate it but not necessarily. It's an unusual profession in that most people consider a newspaper, especially their hometown weekly, partly their own. More often than not, people outside the profession believe they could do the job better than those on the inside.

I am reminded of the story of the young, industrious editor-to-be who waltzed into an old newspaper office one day, telling the old gentleman behind the desk, "I'm going into the newspaper business and I wonder if you could give me a few pointers?" Ye old editor replied, "I don't know anything about it, but I'll be glad to give you the phone number of any of my subscribers; they can tell you everything there is to know about it."

This little story is merely to illustrate the point that everyone who reads a paper is a potential critic. When an editor sets out to write a story, he must keep this firmly in mind. If he forgets, there is a phone right at his elbow that reminds him every Thursday morning.

Getting an understanding of how the newspaper works and the standards they must meet will be appreciated and will make your job easier and more rewarding.

Next week we'll take the Editor over the coals a little and find out... in the Mean or Monster?

Along The Way

Attention all "Gardeners," your May-day has arrived! The advent of early summer days turns all Green-Thumbers toward growing things. Armed with shovel, hoe, cultivator, (and a multitude of tools I don't even know the names of), seeds, fertilizers, insecticides, etc., he (or she as the case may be) advances upon Mother Nature. Like a "Knight in Shining Jeans," their motto has become world famous: "It is not enough to try, it is but to GROW or die!"

And because my jeans were too tight, and the muscles too loose, I shall leave the gardening to the ladies who really know how. The Antioch Garden Club, just a suggestion, gals, you might try the grounds around the Scout House sometime as a group project.

Wonder if Mac Ryan's "sharp" white cap had anything to do with this summery weather?

Nick "Weasel" Badamo and tiny wife are about the busiest people in town these days. He runs the taxi service, while she runs the Pizza shop, and they just acquired a local Pub! Who's going to work that shift, Nick?

Did you hear about Helen Kopriva winning a color TV set for taking a ride in a certain new car? And there's a new twist on the old story of a girl being taken for a ride.

A generous "Rox" Felter supplied the "Suds" at the Post Office Dedication Sun. afternoon. Don't panic—it was root-beer!

The Honored guests missing from the High School Athletic banquet seem to make a habit of being absent from Village functions. Too bad that with a Village full of officials, not one saw fit to attend the Post Office Dedication on Sunday. They would have found a very impressive and interesting ceremony, accompanied by a large and just as impressive audience.

Loaded! (with talent) An apt description of the talent show at the high school Saturday. Wasn't it wonderful to view all of the young talent we have in our community?

May I personally pin a rose on a certain white haired lady, who I am sure doesn't tip the scales at more than 100 lbs. But who packs more personality and vigor than a 200 pound athlete! The kids know her as "Aunt Min," and hold her in high esteem! In case you wonder why, it's because she tries to understand the teenager by genuinely liking them and at the same time commanding their respect. An accomplishment many parents cannot even claim. Again I tip my hat to you, Aunt Min, for the type of establishment you run!

Pat the back of a teenager today. And tomorrow, you He'll repay.

BEST PRESS

"The American press is the best press in the world. And it is improving by the decade."

"Compare the newspapers of 60 years ago with the ones of today. With all the faults of today's papers, no one can deny that they are better."

"Sure, the press of today has faults. It is run by human beings as diverse as our society. Its publishers, editors and reporters are products of various economic and political stages in the country."

"These publishers, editors, and reporters make mistakes, take the wrong turns, and believe very often in things that are refuted in a later era..."

"Critics of the press are usually as biased and colored in their criticisms as they accuse the press of being."

"Seldom do critics of the press examine their own biases and prejudices which compel them to attack the press. If they did an examination of themselves and accepted what they found, they certainly would be more tolerant and hesitant about ranting against the press in pontifical tones..."

"I have faith that the American press will continue to grow and mature. It will reflect an ever improved American society with a higher degree of education. The American press will be as good as it can and to the degree that its people support it."—Padlock Publications.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

In last week's report I pointed out how seasonal and economic conditions cause fluctuations in the number of persons employed by the State of Illinois.

While certain state agencies employ additional personnel at various times of the year, in some areas increases of a permanent nature occur. The best example of this is in the Department of Mental Health where it was mandatory to increase the employee-to-patient ratio to provide the care and treatment these patients should have.

Incidentally, it should be reported too, that when the new clinics and hospitals, made possible by the bond issue approved by voters in November 1960, are completed, additional employees will be required to staff them.

Actually the sum paid state employees in any biennium is a small portion of the state's total budget. Salaries paid to state employees exclusive of state universities, total approximately $450 million for the biennium. This is approximately 13 per cent of the state budget. About $170 million will be paid in salaries to the state universities in this two-year period, a sum which includes, in addition to faculty and administrative personnel, all clerical, custodial and student help.

It is easy to see, when viewed in this perspective, that the normal fluctuations from season to season in total number of state employees has but little effect on the total state budget.

But to use only the numbers employed in an operation as large as state government as a judgment of its operation is an illogical criterion. A more honest criterion would be determination of the efficiency of the employees, a continual evaluation of employee work load, and of our efforts to improve administrative practices.

It has been amply demonstrated that additional employees to enforce revenue collections, perform investigative work to eliminate abuses of public trust, and more stringent inspection procedures that are required under the law, result in a monetary gain to the state and better protection of our citizens' health and welfare.

As the population of the state increases, it naturally follows that, to provide the services which the state has obligated itself by law, additional personnel will be required.

If, on the other hand, we fail to provide the financial means by which the present level of services can be continued, there will be no alternative but to decrease them. In such case, a reduction in the number of employees will be of minor consequence when compared to the decrease in benefits which the state provides its citizens. No matter in what area such forced reductions occur, every man, woman and child would be affected.

Waukegan Mayor Robert Sabonjian, who dabbled briefly and somewhat unsuccessfully in Republican politics in the recent primary, was on hand to congratulate Hartnett on his victory.

Next major political move will be the resignation of Congressional nominee Robert McClory from his State Senator post, so the parties can get about the business of selecting his successor.

There seems to be faint hope that the GOP will be able to settle on one candidate for the three-county post and thus avoid a primary battle.

At course, there is always the possibility that Gov. Otto Kerner will borrow a page from the book of former Gov. William G. Stratton and forget to call a special election to fill McClory's post.

This would leave the 52nd District, made up of Lake, McHenry and Boone Counties, without a state senator during the next session of the Illinois General Assembly.

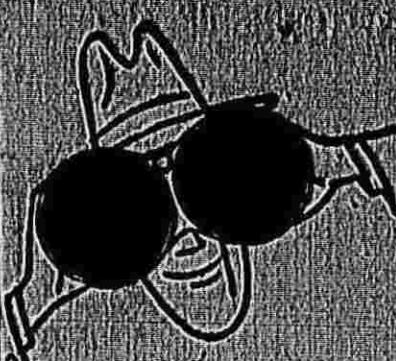

Word was released during the GOP convention that Pres. Kennedy had okayed the appointment of Circuit Judge Bernard M. Decker to the Federal bench, an appointment which must be approved by the Senate.

If the Senate fails to act before June, Judge Decker's post could be filled by appointment by Gov. Kerner and it is reasonable to suppose that he would act promptly to fill the post with a deserving Democrat.

"Are we too soft toward the drinking driver? In Sweden a driver with .04 per cent alcohol in his bloodstream is considered over the 'threshold' of intoxication. A reading of .06 per cent costs him his license and a $250 fine and one with .15 per cent draws one to three months' hard labor behind prison walls. In some states, a reading between .05 and .15 per cent is regarded only 'relevant' in court and not an index that the man was too drunk to drive. Different people react differently to alcohol, of course, but a standard figure should be set for all and set low where conviction would be mandatory. If that were done, the slaughter on the highways would very likely slow down."

Board Signs.....

expected to be completed this week.

This move by the board was long awaited and anticipated by the Antioch News which ran an editorial on the subject several months ago.

A license to operate a tavern in Antioch was also issued to Nick Badame, the new proprietor of Bussie's Key Lounge.

At the regular meeting Everett Ottendahl of the Frostee-Sno company asked permission of the board to build a railroad siding adjacent to his new building in the industrial acreage. He was informed that if the Public Service Company, the Telephone Company and other property owners who would have to allow for the location of Antioch Avenue, gave their permission, the railroad would be begun.

The board passing approval Ottendahl now requires only the permission of the companies having access rights to the street. Ottendahl stated that as soon as the companies agreed by written approval to do this in return for easements granted to them by Frostee-Sno, he would proceed with the installation of the project.

The railroad siding will be used to bring in railroad cars for loading and unloading of company materials.

Salaries Raised
All village employees were voted a salary raise by the board which totaled a clear 8%. Police salaries, previously approved this year, were also discussed.

Police Committee Chairman Ray Toft stated that base pay for village policemen was $340 a month. At the end of five years, pay would be $458 per month maximum.

At the suggestion of President M. Cunningham, the board adjourned to a special meeting sometime next week. The special meeting will deal with the signing of the remaining water project contracts.

Club Urges Spring Checkup for Cars

A vital part of good car care is the annual spring checkup, according to John H. Struben, director of the Chicago Motor Club's emergency road service department. He urged motorists to visit their local garage and have their car thoroughly prepared for the months of warm weather driving ahead.

"After a long winter, especially an extremely rugged one like we've just been through, it is important for safe and economical driving to give your auto a spring tune-up," Struben said. "Even today's modern vehicles that are engineered to require less attention still need a twice-yearly checkup to insure dependable operation."

Struben made the following suggestions to improve your summer driving:

—Drain and flush radiator; refill with clean water and a good rust inhibitor.

—Rotate wheels and bring spare tire into use. This will even the wear on all tires and prolong their life.

—Check the front wheels for proper alignment and balance.

—Check aiming of headlights; see that tail, brake and direction-indicator lights are in working order.

—Check cell condition and fluid level in battery.

—Drain engine oil and re-new filter element; refill with recommended summer grade.

Check Light Usage

URBANA—Spring weather puts many homemakers in a home-freshening mood.

Sue Herndon, University of Illinois home economist, suggests that homemakers take advantage of this mood to check their home lighting practices. They may need some revamping to provide for family needs and activities.

To help you determine whether your lighting practices are sound, Miss Herndon gives this check-list:

How many different types of lighting do you need?

That depends on your family. However, authorities say that a home may need at least four types of lighting. These are room-wide, task, perimeter and accent. Task lighting gives light for specific jobs where you need it most. Perimeter lighting brightens the walls and ceilings. Accent lighting spotlights an object in the room, such as a portrait or flower arrangement.

Many lighting fixtures serve more than one function. But it usually takes a combination of portable and permanent fixtures to meet all lighting needs.

Is too much light better than too little?

Not really, for both produce the same effect—glare. Glare is hard on the eyes and may produce a number of ill-effects.

Can there be glare even when lighting is insufficient?

Yes, because glare is misplaced light, whether there is too much or too little of it.

Is total room darkness desirable for TV viewing?

No. For the sake of your eyes, it's best to have light from several sources. The amount of light in the room should at least equal that coming from the screen. For best viewing, be sure that no lighted lamp reflects on the screen.

Do tinted and white bulbs with identical wattage give the same amount of light?

No. Tinted or colored bulbs absorb some light. When using them, instead of white bulbs, buy the next highest wattage to get the Surface Drainage.... An Asset of Spring

A surface drainage system can greatly assist in the drying of fields in the spring and enabling spring work to progress at an earlier date, according to Lee Smith, County Horticultural Agent.

Many land owners have tiled their land to remove excess water which is within the soil but have neglected to take care of the surface water.

Al Erdman, Soil Conservation technician, said that tile systems are not designed to remove surface water. The ideal system would include tile to remove the internal water and shallow surface ditches to take care of the surface water that stays in ponds for a time during the spring.

This type of water removal system can return five to ten more bushels of grain per acre due to the earlier planting that would be possible.

Smith said the main reason that shallow ditches have not been used much in Kenosha County is that most people do not understand that these ditches are made so that farm machinery can drive through the ditches. Another reason is that landowners believe that tile will remove surface water. It does, but only after the water spends considerable time percolating down to the tile. On the clay soils this might take some time. Smith said all fields cannot make use of these ditches as each field is a problem of its own.

There are fields, too, that would benefit from land smoothing which removes the high areas and fills the low spots so as to produce a continuous slope.

Smith said both of these practices are eligible for cost sharing under the ASC program. Anyone interested in these practices can learn more about them at the County Agent's office in the Courthouse in Kenosha.

Learn to Recognize the Eatable Mushrooms

URBANA—It's mushroom season again. And anyone who uses common sense can gather mushrooms with safety, says O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois extension safety specialist.

The main guide for safe hunting is: Learn to identify the "big four" eatable kinds of mushrooms.

The giant puffball is white, round and conspicuous. It cannot be mistaken for any other mushroom, as there is no stem running through it. If a puffball is white all the way through and no stem runs through the meat, it is safe to eat.

The meadow mushroom is grown commercially. You can learn more about this mushroom by buying a few at a store and examining them.

The morel mushroom, better known as the sponge mushroom, is the most commonly hunted. Once you see this spongelike mushroom, you can distinguish it from the common toadstool at a glance.

The last of the "big four" is the oyster mushroom, so called because of its shape. It is also called log or wood oyster because it grows in wooded areas. Like the other varieties, it is easy to identify.

The stem is not attached to the center of the cap, but on one side. Its most distinctive features are the gills that run down into the stem.

"The formation of the European Common Market is not only posing a gigantic headache for the United States; Soviet Russia sees in the pact, that starts as an economic alliance, a potential of military unity the Reds don't like. While we are trying to tailor our economy to fit into the pattern of the future of the European Common Market, the Reds are taking the offensive in an effort to disrupt it before it gets really united and operating."—Dublin, Ga., Courier-Herald.

SOFT DRINK STANDARDS

New regulations governing the production and labeling of fruit juices and fruit drinks sold in Illinois are now in effect, Ralph A. Bradley, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, has announced.

Illinois is the first state to adopt regulations dealing with fruit juices and fruit juice standards, Bradley said.

Some 80 companies that produce fruit drinks and carbonated beverages were consulted in the development of the new standards. The newly established regulations were necessary because of gross mislabeling and product misrepresentations that are not in the public interest, says Ray Cowperthwait, superintendent of the department's Division of Foods and Dairies.

THE SPRING PLANTING TIME

Types of gardeners in planting the best hybrid rose bushes for spring planting have been listed by the Illinois Department of Agriculture's Division of Plant Industry.

The public is cautioned to buy only plants which are in a dormant condition, or if sprouting has started, to be sure that the sprouts are less than an inch in length.

In a word to retail nursery stock outlets, H. F. Seifert, the division's chief horticultural specialist, said that care should be taken to store plants where temperature is low and humidity high. He explained that root wrapped rose bushes usually have waxed canes which aid in slowing dehydration, but is no guarantee against it.

Antioch's Log Cabin Days Were Begun 125 Years Ago

By Jay Nash

Local historian, Jacqueline Horton, has recently assembled a report of Antioch's coming of age since its historic inception 125 years ago to this very month.

Mrs. Horton relates that the first land claim and the building of a log cabin was made in the township on this month in 1837.

Speaking before the Antioch Woman's Club recently, Mrs. Horton illustrated a talk on Antioch's history with authenticated paintings of Antioch in and about the 1880's.

Her documentation states that three men came up the old Mukwonago Indian Trail in the winter of 1836; that route since changed to Antioch's Main Street and Routes 83-21.

These three men, Darius B. Gage, his brother Thomas and Thomas Warner came from the economically-stricken eastern states to carve out fresh lives for themselves and their families after the 1833 Indian treaty opened the territory to settlement.

The three settled in the immediate area, the Gage brothers claiming land a mile below the Wisconsin state line and Warner established a farm on the west side of Loon Lake.

Attempting to return to their families in the severe winter, the three almost perished in the heavy snows which covered the trail home. Fortunately, Mrs. Horton relates, the trio had the luck to find the cabin of Willard Jones, located at what is now Belvidere Road and Rte. 45. In fact, this was the only house in the entire northwest part of Lake County at that time.

Returning in the spring of 1837, the three men built their first log cabin, totally free of nails, a puncheon-slatted door, one window with wooden shutter protection and hinges on both made from strap leather. The structure averaged 12x20 feet and had a shake-shingle roof.

The inside of the structure was equally designed in pioneer fashion with mud floor and a fieldstone fireplace—this hearth supplying both means of cooking and heating.

The Warners moved into the building with ten children and the community had begun. Darius Gage later on operated a tavern. Others joined the settlers. A sawmill was built in 1839 by Hiram Buttrick. The first store was operated by F. F. Munson and a blacksmith shop was run by Eleazer F. Ingalls.

Gage's Settlement, as Antioch was then called, quickly blossomed into considerable village size. The name was changed in the 1850's by the town government to Antioch. The name was inspired by a religious sect called Campbellites and stemmed from the place where the disciples of Christ were first called Christians.

Remaining basically agricultural, the community shipped its first can of milk from Thomas Warner's farm to Chicago via the recently built Wisconsin Central railroad, later called the Soo Line.

The coming of the trains to Antioch revolutionized the village and its neighboring areas. The now huge cities to the north and south of Antioch belched out a great influx of vacationers, eager to escape the hot and confining cities in the summer.

Fine access to the lakes, abundant fishing and hunting, booming resorts, soon established Antioch as a resort area frequented annually by thousands of vacation-bound tourists and sport-seeking enthusiasts.

In conclusion, Mrs. Horton, in appraisal of her careful research, stated that this growth established Antioch as "the Hub of the Lake Region" and "today it has taken its place as one of Lake County's most important towns."

Residents Speak Out On New Post Office

An independent survey was recently taken by an Antioch News reporter who interviewed several persons in order to learn their opinion of the new post office in Antioch.

Here are a few of the comments passed. "They should have left the post office where it was—also the box."—Robert Wilton, Sr.

"They ought to run a shuttle-bus service from Main and Lake Streets to the post office."—Robert Wilton, Jr.

"I think it's lovely."—Mrs. Charles R. Keulman.

"Lots of floor space—whereas the other postoffice was congested. Those boxes right next to the floor are real nice, aren't they?"—James F. Horan, Ex-postmaster (1933-40).

"Badly needed. The efficiency should be a lot better. An improvement could be made however in the area by abolishing the nearby so-called park which is costing the village money to maintain and in its place put up a parking space which every one claims we're short of. This would be profitable for the village instead of an expense."—Kenneth Zetterman.

"We're very satisfied. What we have here is 100% better than before. We are trying to get another postoffice box installed, by the way."—Earl Walter, four-year post office employee.

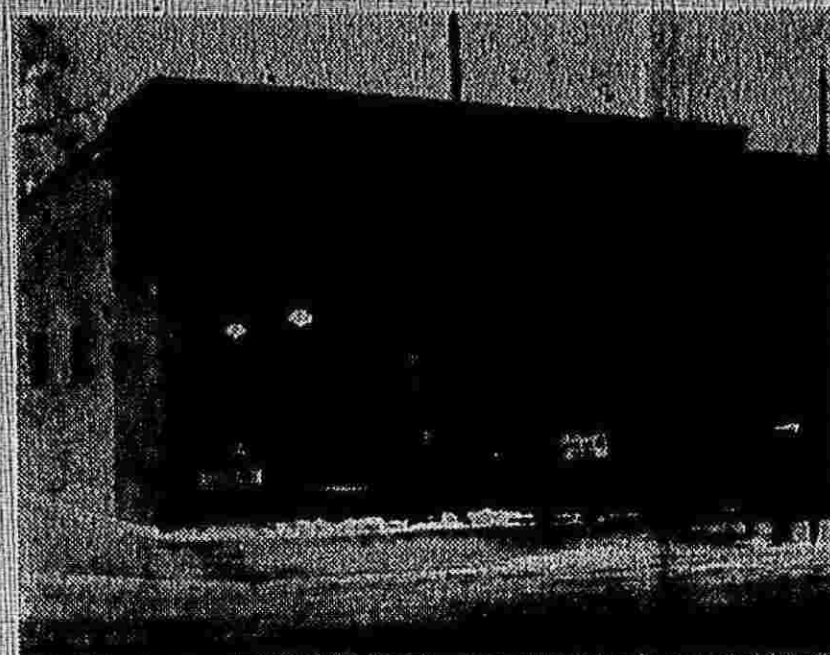

"A lot more airy—room to move around in. We're very pleased. There is a lot more light to work by here. It's interesting to note that the attitude of the people seems to be a lot more amiable. A lot more mailing is being done also. With the place being more cheery, the morale is up."—Joseph Chiuffo, Sr., 3-year postal employee.

"I've worked in several of the offices in Chicago. They were all the last word in appliances, etc., but they weren't as nice as this one."—Howard Pannier, four-year employee in Antioch Post Office. (13 years' total service).

"I think the present building is nice."—Elmer Baethke.

"We should definitely have a box on Lake Street but the new post office is a definite improvement toward the town."—Stan Toton.

Proud History Reflected By Antioch's New Post Office

Postmaster Kufalk Depicts Progress

"Our patrons will derive more enjoyment for doing business here," Postmaster Roy Kufalk recently commented on the new postoffice. "Their mail will be handled more efficiently and this building with its up-to-date equipment will enable our postal employees to work under the best of conditions."

"The new facility," he added, "will be a link with a postal system that today has over 35,000 post offices. This system serves more than 13 million persons and handles over two thirds of the world's mail. Our 560,000 postal employees are handling about 65 billion pieces of mail a year, including over a billion parcels."

"National population increases will add nearly 3,000,000 people to the population in the next 12 months, with about one and a half million marriages and the establishment of 663,000 new households, including many in this community," Kufalk noted. "This will be reflected in increasing demands for more postal service here," he explained.

It was pointed out that the mail business has gone considerably upwards. For example, he cited, 10 years ago revenue was $39,000 compared with $150,000 today.

When the local post office was first established in 1846, its receipts ran only about $9,000 per year.

The Postmaster gave some other interesting facts on the history of the local postal service. Compared with 10 years ago, the post office in Antioch employs seventeen employees instead of eight.

Former postmasters include Miss Lottie M. Jones (1918-1933) and James F. Horan (1933-1940), followed by the present Postmaster Roy Kufalk.

Miss Jones, who celebrated her 88th birthday in Libertyville last Friday, served the Post Office from 1903 to 1918 as an employee when the postal service station was located in Williams' Hardware Store on Main Street. She became Postmaster in 1918 as an appointee.

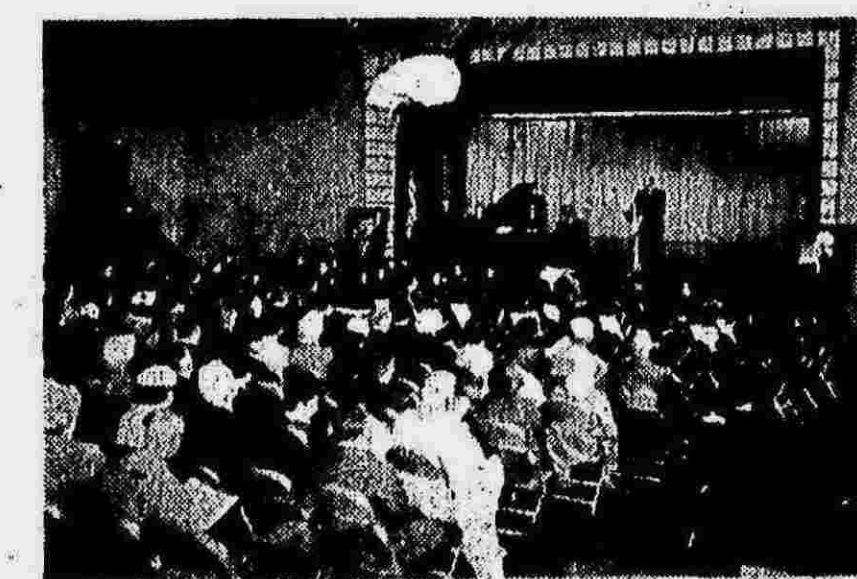

There is presently one postal vehicle in operation at the Post Office when ten years ago there was none.

Postal routes have been increased in the last ten years also with two rural routes and three city routes added to the three rural routes.

Also within the framework of Antioch's Post Office is an addition of four mail collection boxes. Ten years ago there were none.

Post Office Has Had Many Antioch Homes

Local historian Jacqueline Horton relates that the first Postmaster of Antioch was Dr. Leroy D. Gage, a relative of the founding fathers of Antioch, Thomas Q. and Darius Gage. Gage was also a cousin of Addie Williams, the mother of Mrs. Frances Williams.

According to Mrs. Horton, the first mail was carried from Antioch to Waukegan by George James, who rode horseback with one letter in his mail pouch. The new train station later built in Wadsworth was a distribution center for mail where a carrier from Antioch would pick up and drop off mail via the horse and buggy. Mail was, for a period of time, picked up at Richmond Station.

Among the carriers of Antioch's early mail delivery service were, surprisingly enough, several females—including Mrs. Morley, grandmother of Mrs. Phyllis McMillen and the Tiffany sisters.

In the severe winters before the turn of the century, Mrs. Horton relates, the department did not have modern vehicles and paved roads to aid them in picking up and delivering the mail.

She tells the story of one Mr. Smith, who in 1881, after waiting for five days for the mail to come through, finally drove to Wadsworth through the perennial "snow and hail and storm and sleet," to retrieve the mails. His spirited team allegedly broke down and he walked back to Antioch in order that the mail might be delivered.

In 1900 rural free delivery was established and the merchants of the village feared that the farmers, who had previously made special trips to town to obtain their mail and, of course, do their shopping, would not frequent Antioch as much and thereby cut down on their business revenue. However, Mrs. Horton assures us, the merchants and farmers both found the new system popular and trade had not been reduced at all.

It was an arduous and long day's labor for mail carriers at the beginning of Antioch's postal service. Many routes were stretched out to over 25 miles in distance and over 100 families had to be served along the way. The roads were mud holes and bogs during the rainy and wintry season which sometimes prevented the mailmen from getting home with their horse and buggy until long after the sun had set.

An interesting note is that a letter sent from Antioch to Boston early in the 1880's cost 25 cents. Later on, in 1883, the two-cent postage for letters went into effect.

Over the years, Mrs. Horton verifies, the Post Office has had many homes.

The earliest recorded post office site, Mrs. Horton states, was located in a 10x30 frame structure across from what is now Red Murrie's service station. The mail at that time was sorted and stamped at a small wooden desk which contained about 25-30 pigeonholes. This same desk was later on owned by Jack B. Fields' grandmother.

The Post Office was then moved to the C. O. Foltz's General Store which was situated on the southwest corner of Lake and Main Streets. The building finally burned down in the great fire of 1891.

Located for a while where the present Home-Products store on the east side of Main Street, the mail center also occupied Larkins Drug Store.

Simon's Hotel, where the small village park next to the Antioch Fire Station presently stands, was also used as the Post Office headquarters. The Post Office was then moved to the Williams Store where Dan Williams handled the mail through 1897 to 1909. He was assisted by Emma Simons, Elsie Schroeder and Lottie Jones, who later became Postmaster of Antioch.

From Williams' the Post Office moved rapidly through what is now Ray Baethke's grocery store to the site of the present Savings & Loan company, to its most previous headquarters on Lake Street before moving into the new building.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

BABY FOOT CARE

By Dr. John T. Stankus, Chairman, Committee on Children and Youth, Illinois Antioch County Council, Antioch, Ill.

Looking at a baby's feet and two tiny feet, it is hard to believe they will carry your child approximately 65,000 miles during his life. Knowing how to protect the normal development of baby's feet, knowing the importance of foot care and of the relationship of foot health to good body posture, will save your child miles and hours of discomfort.

The average baby begins weight bearing between nine and fifteen months of age. Until then, shoes are not too important and the feet are freer to develop without restriction. Many doctors, however, recommend soft soles and semi-hard soles to eliminate the danger of injury to the feet.

The important thing for you to remember is that any footwear, even booties, and socks used for warmth and appearance, be large enough to avoid any pressure on the developing structure of baby's feet. Feet grow rapidly. Every part of feet has its own schedule of growth. On the average, however, between the ages of one and six, your child's shoe size should change every four to eight weeks.

DIAPER HYGIENE: FIRST TWO MONTHS

By Erma W. Macready, R. N., Baby Care Counselor, Pensacola, Florida

New mothers often ask me: "What do you mean by good diaper hygiene?" The definition that I give comes from the Medical Section of the National Baby Care Council. It is this:

"Good diaper hygiene can be practiced simply and surely by diapering baby with correctly processed diapers and by following a fastidious diapering routine as long as the baby wears diapers."

The mothers then want to know why good diaper hygiene is essential. The Council's medical people provide this answer: "To prevent diaper rash."

This column, the second in a series written by professional baby care counselors for "All About Babies," discusses good diaper hygiene from baby's birth to the age of two months.

Dermatologists, physicians who specialize in skin ailments, inform us that the skin of the newborn infant is especially sensitive to irritating substances. The basic reason, they say, is that baby's skin hasn't as yet developed all of the protective elements found in the skin of the adult.

These physicians have found that nearly all babies are prone to rash in the diaper area. Fair skinned infants seem to be more susceptible. It has been estimated that severe rashes occur in about one baby out of every ten. However, the skin of any infant will be irritated unless proper care is taken.

You should, therefore, remove the diaper as soon as you are aware that baby is wet or has had a bowel movement. Clean the entire diaper area thoroughly using a fresh wash cloth or fresh cotton each time. As a cleansing agent, lukewarm water is advised, followed by thorough drying of the area and perhaps a light application of one of the protective baby lotions or powders.

Use only diapers which have been processed so that they are sterilized and free of bacteria, completely rinsed so they are free of soap or detergent residue and protectively treated with a special diaper antiseptic. If you do your diapers at home, write for "A Mother's Guide to Diaper Hygiene," which tells you how to do your own diapers properly. Send ten cents to cover cost of mailing to the National Baby Care Council, 1913 Walnut St., Philadelphia 5, Pa.

One more thought. Be cautious of over-dressing the infant. In the home with an average temperature of 72 degrees F., a diaper, a shirt and a light blanket usually is sufficient. Remember, excessive perspiration can stimulate skin irritation in the diaper area.

MEET THE NEW BORN BABY

By William Kitay, Member, National Assn. of Science Writers, Editor, All About Babies

Infancy is such a fascinating stage of life. It is that brief period of adjustment when the newborn baby adapts itself to independent living in a strange and confusing environment outside mother's body.

In its earliest phase it seems to be a continuation of the prenatal state. At birth, baby seems to be hardly awake. And baby will continue to seem half awake and half asleep for a time, except for brief moments of wakefulness when he's hungry or is being bathed and diapered. He dozes but he doesn't sleep deeply.

Though the newborn baby appears to be complete in every detail—he has all his little toes and fingers—there's much that nature has yet to do.

For example, while baby's brain is completely formed, the nerve fibers that connect the brain to the eyes and to the muscles are not. This is why a newborn's eyes have difficulty focusing and often appear crossed and why his little limbs jerk so suddenly. Until baby's nerve fibers are fully developed, his little body is a bundle of reflexes, those involuntary automatic responses to stimuli. When his tiny hand clutches your finger placed in its palm, that's a reflex. When baby turns his face toward a touch on his cheek, that's a reflex. Baby's cry is a reflex and he cries without tears because the tear glands have not developed yet. The jerky movements of his little arms and legs and often his body also are reflex actions. They should cause no concern. They're nature's way of keeping baby's heart pumping evenly and his blood circulating properly.

The queer sounds the newborn makes also have good reason. The infant sneezes and coughs not because he's catching cold but because this is nature's way of keeping his nose and throat clear of mucus. The snorts and grunts he makes when he sleeps are caused when the tongue occasionally slips back against the roof of his mouth. Remember, breathing is something quite new to baby.

During the first few weeks, breathing is quite shallow and baby appears to breathe with his stomach. That is because his chest and its muscles are, as yet, too small to do the job alone. Crying, incidentally, during these early weeks is nature's way of stimulating the breathing mechanism.

To watch the newborn baby as it skillfully moves from its cozy, peaceful prenatal existence into a world of harsh reality is a wonder and a joy to behold.

Heart News Beat

VARICOSE VEINS

Varicose veins are probably the most common circulatory disorders affecting both men and women. The word "varicose" simply means swollen, according to the Heart Association.

You can understand the why's and how's of varicose veins better if you know something about the circulation of blood through the body.

Probably no system of transportation is as wonderful as the circulatory system which carries blood to every part of your body. The heart, its center and dynamo, sends blood out through the arteries and is the depot to which the blood returns through the veins.

On its way back from the legs to the heart, the blood has a long uphill climb. Three things help in this upward journey. Blood pressure, stronger in the arteries, is diminished in the veins but still gives some push to the blood. The movement of leg muscles during normal activity or exercise helps massage the blood upward through vein walls. The third aid is a very ingenious antigravity device: tiny cup-like valves which section off the veins and maintain one-way traffic. These valves open to let the blood travel upward, then close tightly so that blood will not fall back.

Varicose veins develop when vein walls or valves become weakened. Some people may be born with weak valves or weak vein walls. But diseases, injury, overweight, tight clothing, pregnancy and other stresses can also damage or put greater pressure on the veins.

When walls of the veins are weak, in time they may give way under the pressure of blood and sag outward at the site of the valves. As a result, the valves cannot close tightly to regulate the flow of blood. This, in turn, further increases the pressure of blood against the vein walls, which may balloon out and become "varicose."

Standing or sitting for long periods is hard on people with varicose veins because blood accumulates in the lower legs and puts greater pressure on the veins. This is one reason why doctors recommend that such persons put their feet up—at the office if they can get away with it, at home watching television or doing sit-down chores. Even if you don't have varicose veins it's a good idea to walk around every half-hour or so during a long plane or train trip. Interrupt long

The Chicago Motor Club points out that this is the time of the year when motorists encounter many dangerous chuck holes and pavement cracks on streets and highways. Damage to tires and wheels is not the only damage that can result from running over one of these chuck holes. Motorists are warned that autos traveling at excessive speed can be thrown into oncoming traffic or turned over when hitting a large hole.

Improvement For Charcoal Cooking

Outstanding authorities on meat cooking maintain the higher the cooking temperature, the greater the shrinkage. Tests show that slow cooking temperatures reduce meat shrinkage from 18 to 20 per cent. They say that searing does not hold in meat juices—a gradual browning is better.

Based on the principle of slow cooking, a prominent Rochester, New York lawyer named Harold F. Curtis, has invented a grill which allows charcoal cooking addicts to start cooking within four minutes after lighting the charcoal.

Man labor used per acre for crop production has decreased more than 60 per cent in the past 40 years, says a University of Illinois agricultural economist.

Antioch Slugged to Defeat by Warren, 17 to 10

Hard Hitting Sparks Both Teams In Fray

The ATHS Baseball squad, under the direction of Coach Larry Leon, was dumped to a 17-10 defeat at the hands of a hard-hitting Warren squad last Friday evening.

Denman was the starting pitcher for Antioch. He pitched until the 3rd inning when he was relieved by Wolf. Ozga relieved Wolf and pitched the remaining 2 and 2/3 innings.

Credit for the win went to Warren's Krueger.

Antioch led in the 1st in-

Antioch Beat By Grayslake

ATHS Track Coach Roger Andrews recently reported that his squad, meeting Grayslake, were overwhelmed by the Rams, 85-33.

Sweeping three entire events, the Rams took all honors in the 120 high hurdles, the shot put and the broad jump.

Grayslake also took the 100-yard dash but Fitch and Weber placed second and third.

Surprisingly enough was Dione Rathbone's performance for the 880 in which, although placing second, he set a new school record with 2:07.3.

The 880 relay was taken by Grayslake with a 1:38.1.

Two Sequoits placed second and third in the 440-Rathbone and Andrews.

Events won by Antioch were the high jump (Dittman 5'8") and the pole vault (Weber 10'6").

Frosh-Soph Sweep Meet

The Frosh-Soph squad of ATH won an overwhelming victory at the tri-school track meet between Grant, Antioch and Round Lake last Monday.

Scoring an impressive 93½ points, the Sequoit junior tracksters left their opposition trailing with 47½ (Grant) and 7 (Round Lake).

All told, Antioch took eleven firsts in the event.

Paul Clifton, bright underclass track star, took the 120 high hurdles and the broad jump events. His broad jump record was a new high for the school at 18'5½". The old record stood at 18'.

Paul Williams, another Sequoit stalwart, won the shot ing by one run 2-1, but lost their lead when, in the last inning, Warren edged the tally 5-4. The 3rd and 4th innings were sparked by Warren power drives which gave them an additional nine runs.

Coming back on the offense, Antioch drove in two more runs in the fifth inning, holding Warren to nothing. Four more runs were added in the sixth inning by Antioch, but Warren slugged in three more runs to overcome any Antioch rally. The game ended in the seventh with the 17-10 score smarting the Sequoit squad.

Doubles were hit by Horn and Wojczynski of Antioch and Grom of Warren.

Three-baggers were copped by Ozga for the Sequoits and Edward and Huffines for the Blue Devils.

Splitting the home runs, each team hit two. Pleviak and Dewar for Antioch and Warren Blue Devils Huffines and Krueger.

Antioch played the Wauconda Bulldogs in Wauconda, Tuesday, but results were not available at this writing. This Friday, the Sequoits will take on Round Lake at Round Lake.

Sequoits Place 2nd In Track Competition

With five firsts in fourteen events, the Antioch Sequoits placed second in their recent Monday track meet with Grant and Round Lake.

Grant copped the contest by racking up 61½ points to Antioch's 56½ and Round Lake's 29.

The 120 high hurdles, the 880, the 180 low hurdles, the mile, the shot put and the discus throw were all swept by Grant in their onslaught.

Round Lake only took three events — the 100-yard dash, the 220 and the broad jump —

all taken by their star, Rein-hofer. The 880 relay was taken by Antioch for a 1:43 time. The team also took the mile relay at 3:51.7.

Dione Rathbone stayed with competition to capture the 440-yard sprint at 55.1 time.

Even though the meet was lost, two new records for Antioch were established by Dittman and Weber.

Dittman won the high jump by leaping 5 feet even. Weber soared 11'9" to establish the new pole vault record at ATH.

DRESSED IN APPROPRIATE ATTIRE, Winifred and Judy Serenson of Antioch, receive their Red Cross Water Safety Instructor's card from Mr. Allen Platt, Lake County's Director of Red Cross Water Safety and First Aid. The 10 evening course, held at Deerfield High's pool, qualified eight Lake County residents as instructors in all phases of swimming instruction from basic swimming to the training of Senior Life Guards. A similar course will be held in Libertyville in June. If interested, please call your Lake County Red Cross Chapter, ON 2-4044.

Modified Stocks Set For Booming Season

Milwaukee, Wisconsin — Midwest Speedways, Inc., under the direction of John Kishan has announced the opening dates for modified stock car racing at the four quarter mile racing centers, and all indications point toward another record-breaking season.

The tracks will again present both modified and sportsmen stock car racing on a weekly basis. The Hales Corners Speedway, Highway 100, ½ mile south of Hales Corners is scheduled to open Saturday night, May 12, and continue every Saturday night through September. The Waukegan Speedway is located 50 miles south of Milwaukee, and will again present Sunday night events with the first race scheduled for May 13.

The Cedarburg Raceway will begin its fourth year of activity under the Midwest banner on Wednesday night, May 23, while the Milwaukee Fair Park Speedway will open on May 31, and continue every Thursday night until August 3.

The increasing popularity of the modifieds has warranted the opportunity to run their first fair date race, which is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, August 11. The event is temporarily scheduled to run at least 200 laps making it the longest modified event in Wisconsin history. Racing will recess for one week while the fair winds up its activities, but will return on Thursday night, August 23.

Time trials will begin at 7 p.m., and racing will start at 8:00 o'clock at the Fair Park; while the times for the other three will be 7:15 p.m. and 8:30 respectively.

Ball Team Makes 273

Coach Larry Leon, presently managing Antioch's baseball team, stated that the ATH players, now ranking in 4th place in the conference as a unit, needed heavy improvement along the pitching slots.

He added that the hitting of the squad as a whole, was exceptionally good although the team falls short of expectations on defense. Leon bases most of the losses due to this deficiency. None of the defeats so far suffered by Antioch can be blamed to poor hitting, Leon claimed.

Team average to the present is .273.

MAY, 1962 WEATHER FORECAST

A cold move should drop temperatures to the low thirties by the 5th or 6th, and cause frost in the Northern portion of the Chicago Metropolitan Area and in Wisconsin.

Warmer temperatures will follow this cold spell through to the 19th or 20th when temperatures will fall to 35 degrees North and 45 degrees South.

A warming trend will quickly follow this cold move. Temperatures will probably reach 90 by the 21st. This heat will abate somewhat by the 23rd but will be back up to 90 again about the 26th. Cool air will bring relief the 27th. Temperatures will range between 50 and 70 the balance of the month.

Considerable precipitation can be expected the first half of the month but except for severe thunderstorms on the 5th and 16th, precipitation will be moderate. A storm about the 26th will bring strong winds and heavy rainfall to most of Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana with possible tornadoes.

Total Degrees of Heat Demand accumulated for the period September 1, 1961 through April 30, 1962 are 7186. For the same period one year ago, we had accumulated 6597 Degrees of Heat Demand. This winter now has been 8% colder than last winter. The colder trend was reversed to warmer during April of this year. April was 15% warmer than April a year ago.

Lake County Mayors Aid Safety Checks

Mayors of Lake County communities met recently to pledge their support of a mass voluntary vehicle safety check program geared to reach drivers throughout the county.

The Vehicle Safety-Check is a community level citizens action program sponsored in Illinois by Gov. Otto Kerner's newly formed Official Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee.

Each of the community officials present at the meeting represented incorporated areas in Lake County of 1,000 or more population and was accompanied by his local Vehicle Safety-Check program chairman.

Lake County Safety Commission vice chairman, Joseph Johnson, of Winthrop Harbor, and Executive Director Eugene Landen, of Libertyville, opened the meeting with a discussion of Lake County traffic accidents, which during 1961 produced more fatalities than during the preceding year.

"All communities in our county are desirous of reversing this tragic trend in fatal accidents," Landen said. "In that effort all will have the full support of this Safety Commission. The commission, in turn, intends to work closely with Gov. Kerner's Official Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee which is represented here today."

Frank Davin, traffic safety consultant to Gov. Kerner and secretary to the Governor's Official Committee, and Robert G. Schmal, of the Illinois Division of Traffic Safety, explained the workings of the Governor's Official Committee and related them to Lake County.

A locally controlled citizens action program, the Voluntary Vehicle Safety-Check is designed to (1) reduce accidents by promoting maintenance of passenger vehicles in safe operating conditions and (2) to encourage safety alertness among all drivers by getting them involved in the check program either as program organizers, check lane operators or as car-owner safety-check participants.

"Any motorist, no matter how careful and courteous in his driving, is only as safe as his car is in safe driving condition," said Vernon A. Langille, manager of public relations for the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., who has been named by Gov. Kerner as general chairman of the safety-check program in Illinois this year.

The free and voluntary safety-check quickly and surely demonstrates to the auto owner the condition of his car. If it is in good condition, he is given a sticker so designating. If any one of 10 items of equipment checked is defective, the motorist is advised and can, upon having the defect repaired, receive his sticker," Langille said.

Nearly 3,500 communities over the nation took part in the program in 1961, checking 3.5 million cars of which one in six was found to be defective in one or more of the items checked. The program is sponsored nationally by the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee, a non-profit association with headquarters in Washington, D.C.

According to Landen, Lake County during May and June anticipates some 25 community-level programs, "more than enough to make a tremendous psychological impact on drivers in this area while at the same time actually checking a sizeable percentage of the vehicles registered in this county."

Schmal predicted 200 community-level programs throughout the state, not including industrial, military, government and high school programs.

"It is our intention to increase over-all participation in the Illinois Vehicle Safety-Check to the point where our state will be among the leading Safety-Check states in the nation," Schmal said.

Inside Antioch High

By Mike Brooks
The past week-end at Antioch High was busier than usual. On Friday night, the Seniors sponsored a dance in the boys' gym. A popular soft drink supplied the music and refreshments. The proceeds will go toward the Senior Class trip to be taken later in May. This was, by far, the best informal dance ever held at the school. The Senior Class wishes to thank all the people who made it a reality. It surely would be nice to see some more of these dances, possibly during the summer months when worthwhile things to do are hard to find.

On Saturday night the first talent show in several years was held in the auditorium. Everything from comedy skits to baton twirling was entered in the show. The Dance Band and Swing Choir added the musical spice to the production. Congratulations to a fine crew of talent!

On Sunday afternoon, the Senior Concert Band and the Senior Choir played and sang at the dedication of the new post office in the Grade School gym. All in all, some of the students had a rather busy schedule last weekend.

The Fine Arts Department is preparing for its annual Spring Concert to be given on May 19. Tickets will be on sale by members of the band and choir soon. The Dance Band and Swing Choir will perform after the concert in the boys' gym. Why don't you come out and hear some fine music and then you may dance in the gym to the gentle rhythms of the Dance Band? It will be an enjoyable experience for everyone. This will be the Seniors' last performance with the Concert Band and Choir, and Dance Band. They would like to see a record turnout for their last high school concert.

The 1962 Junior-Senior Prom is a week from this Saturday night. This year's theme is "Rue d'Amour" or in everyday English, "Street of Love." I think. Friends and families are cordially invited to view the Coronation of the Queen at 11 p.m. As of yet, no definite plans have been made for an after-prom party.

Scout crafts will be displayed at indoor and outdoor booths, and all scouts of the Northwest District, from Cub Packs up, will take part in the affair. Troop 88 is planning a display of pets.

On May 12, the Northern Illinois Conservation Club is hosting Troops 88 of Channel Lake, 80 of Grass Lake, and Troops 91 and 92 of Antioch on a field trip to the Kettle Moraine forest. The Conservation Club is providing buses for the trip, and several members of the club will accompany the boys.

Boy Scout Troops 80, 88, 91 and 92 will cooperate in a paper drive covering most of Antioch Township and extending into nearby parts of Wisconsin on May 26. Goal of the troops is one quarter million pounds of paper and proceeds of the sale of the paper will go to finance the summer camping program of the troops.

Pamphlets Describe Shrub Preservation

The county Agricultural agent's office has pamphlets describing the trees and shrubs that can be used for landscape plantings.

Leo Smith, Kenosha County Horticultural agent, said that since Dutch elm disease came to Kenosha county, most people want to plant some other shade trees. The preference is for the rapid growing tall trees, such as Ash, Basswood, Thornless Honey Locust, Hackberry, Red and Pin Oaks.

Greater use should be made of the smaller trees, Smith said. Some of the fast growing small trees are: Serviceberry, American Hornbeam, Pagoda Dogwood, and there are many varieties of flowering crabapple and Hawthorne that would fit into the landscape plan.

According to Smith, there are over 100 different shrubs listed for landscape plantings. This list is divided into tall, medium and low shrub varieties along with vines and ground cover plants. The plant growth habits are indicated for each plant which tells the soil preference, speed of growth, shade tolerance and the use for bird gardens.

The botanical name is given for all the trees and shrubs to aid in ordering from nurseries. Most of the trees and about half of the shrubs listed are native to Wisconsin and Illinois.

Marcia Cunningham and Roger Strattan, both of Antioch, were married on April 14. Mr. and Mrs. Strattan are making their home in Zion.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Tiesling moved from their home on Shannon Avenue in Channel Lake to Park Avenue in Antioch last week.

Roger has been stationed at Charleston, South Carolina. His brother, AKAN Martin Stankus, is expected home from San Francisco in May, with his navy service finished.

The Ladies' Gym group, meeting at 7 p.m. on Thursday at the Channel Lake school, has been steadily growing through the weeks and plans to continue through the summer. During the summer the group is planning outdoor games, followed by a swim. Membership in the group is no longer confined to residents of the school district.

Ed Baumann, Lake Avenue, was hospitalized recently after dropping a 500 pound piece of steel on his foot. He is presently at home convalescing with a broken toe and other injuries to his foot.

Dick and Ann Waters are spending a week at Antigo, Wis., during the opening of the trout fishing season.

Mrs. Birdie Rogers is in Zion Hospital for possible surgery.

Safety Commission to Halt Highway Slaughter

Plans for carrying on safety programs which call for reduction of speed in Lake County were discussed and submitted recently by Frank "Lindy" Skowronski, chairman of the enforcement committee of the Lake County Safety Commission, to Eugene G. Landen, Executive Director, at the safety commission meeting.

Skowronski submitted figures showing that half of the fatal accidents occur within 10 miles of the victim's home; two-thirds of them occur within 25 miles; and three out of five fatal accidents in Lake County involve only one vehicle.

Skowronski said that if motorists would stay alert even though the road is familiar to them, they would save their lives.

"Don't insist on your highway rights—It may lead to your funeral rites."

Skowronski advises motorists to reduce speed. SPEED KILLS. The faster the speed the more difficult it is to stop or react in an emergency, he warned. Start your trip earlier.

That Danger Zone—in front of your car becomes more and more of an accident with every upward quiver of the speedometer needle. "When you get your car up to 60 miles per hour, you are definitely courting trouble," the committee chairman warned. "Let's take an example: Can you imagine yourself deliberately driving your car off a 10-story building and plunging it to the street below? Of course not. Yet if you crash into another car while traveling at 60 miles an hour you will meet the same disastrous results, as if you would have taken that flyer off the building. It's the same pile of twisted steel, the same torn bodies, the same trip to the hospital... or morgue.

Yes, excessive speed is dangerous. It's a killer. Remember, give yourself plenty of time and distance.

Skowronski said that many persons who drive don't worry about their own driving, but the other person's driving. Statistics prove, however, that most drivers meet death at their own hands through excessive speed, distraction, or bad judgment. Their cars roll off the highway, also strike other fixed objects.

The chairman of the enforcement committee also prepared a speed chart based on 30 miles distance, the maximum number of miles across Lake County. It shows that through reduced speed only a few minutes will be lost—an amount that is insignificant when the dangers of speed are considered.

Observe the speed chart and be a MINUTEMAN DRIVER. Spare a Few Minutes and Spare Your Life. If we can get the motorist to be more cautious and reduce his speed, much of our problem of fatal accidents is removed," Skowronski said.

Book Review

By Marion Harden

"The Great Mathematicians," by Herbert W. Turnbull, has been given to the library in memory of Edmond M. Cain, father of M. C. Cain. Mathematics, more than most science, has depended for its development upon the contributions of individuals. By telling of these individuals, Mr. Turnbull has given us a concise, fascinating history of mathematics.

"Hunting Trails" is a generous collection of tales about hunters and their quarry edited by Raymond R. Camp. Some of the stories are serious, some hilarious, and all are guaranteed to provide the fireside hunter with many hours of pleasure.

"Only Yesterday," by Frederick Lewis Allen, was given to the library in memory of Fred Swanson. Mr. Allen deals with that delightful decade—the '20's. Here is the story of Woodrow Wilson's defeat, the Harding scandals, the revolution in manners and morals, the bull market and its smashup. "Only Yesterday" is an entertaining and nostalgic look at a period in our history.

In "The Earth," W. B. Harland describes the structure of the earth and interprets the various theories about the origin of the continents and the Ice Ages. He explains the nature of the enormous varieties of rock substances, from common sandstone to precious gems. There are useful chapters in which the amateur geologist is given the basic rules of rock collecting and study. "The Earth" was given to the Antioch Township Library in memory of Carl Barthel.

"The United States Since 1885" is the story of the rebirth of a nation from the shattering destruction of the Civil War. Foster Rhea Dulles traces our history through reconstruction, Westward expansion, industrial growth, the two world wars, the atomic age, and the beginnings of space conquest. Professor Dulles does not confine his story to political and economic events. Ideas and personalities are also a part of this excellent history which was given in memory of Mrs. Alma F. Runyard.

"The Golden Book of the Civil War" was adapted for young readers by Charles Flato from "The American Heritage Picture History of the Civil War." Few books for young people have illustrations that enable the reader to visualize in detail just how a Civil War battle was fought—how the terrain looked, and how the troops were deployed. The young Civil War enthusiasts, and there are many of them, will enjoy the informative text which is an excellent one volume history of the war. Picture a history of fire fighting with the firemen, the equipment, the buildings, and even the smoke a brilliant red outlined in black! Leonard Everett Fisher's "Pumpers, Bolders, Hooks and Ladders" has a brief text telling of the evolution of fire-fighting equipment and he also provided the colorful pictures that make the book unique. Little boys will pore over this book by the hour, even if they can't read yet! "Pumpers, Bolders, Hooks and Ladders" was given to the library in memory of Steve Clesky, father of Mrs. Clarence Kufak.

SUPPORT IS ASKED
Lt. Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro last week called for public support of Gov. Otto Kerner's "action" program for highway safety.

In an address at the opening session of the Illinois Traffic Court Conference at Northern Illinois University, he said the real test of the success of our efforts to reduce traffic accidents will be determined by the extent to which local communities adopt and implement the recommendations contained in the "action program" at the grass roots level.

"Slogans, gimmicks and drives yield no lasting benefit," he said. "The real remedy lies in a balanced program, fully used by public officials and fully supported by the public on a continuing basis."

The lieutenant governor said the "action program" is spelled out in terms of laws and ordinances, traffic accident records, education, engineering, motor vehicle administration, police traffic supervision, traffic courts, public information, organized citizen support, and research and health and medical care.

Pinkertons Take Horse Hoofprints

New and improved security measures designed to protect fans of horse racing will be in effect for the 1962 racing season which began April 14. William S. Miller, chairman of the Illinois Racine Board, announced.

Miller said a new method of hoofprint identification has been developed by the Pinkerton National Detective Agency and Dr. James J. Manning, chief of the New York Police Department Crime Laboratory, with the cooperation of the Jockey Club.

The identification system is comparable to human identification by the fingerprint method. The horny growths which appear inside of each horse's legs, known as "chestnuts," are measured and classified through use of precision photographic devices and instruments. Examinations of over 50,000 thoroughbreds revealed that no two "chestnuts" were identical.

What's a Billion or So?

From Newsweek: "... government advisers now expect the first quarter GNP to fall well below $550 billion, several billion behind 'schedule'." And this meant, officials admitted, that the chances of a $570 billion GNP for the whole year were now small indeed. It would take a huge spurt with a fourth-quarter rate of some $590 billion, to attain that level. One government economist said flatly: "We'll do well to hit $560 billion." Such a $10 billion plunge below forecast would cost the Treasury between $2 billion and $3 billion in tax revenues and would end all hope of a budget balance."

Mrs. David Hutchinson of Woodstock were luncheon guests of Mrs. Lyman Bonner Thursday. Mrs. Albert Smith and daughters of South Holland were callers at the home of Mrs. Frank Edwards Monday.

With your garden as with other crops, it's best to have a soil test before you fertilize. A University of Illinois vegetable crops specialist says that if you don't test you might waste money on unnecessary fertilizers or actually get an unfavorable balance of nutrients in the soil.

How to Choose Portable Lamps

URBANA-If you want a portable lamp that will be attractive and do a good job, it's wise to check the total design of the lamp.

Sue Herndon, University of Illinois home economist, lists these pointers for selecting lamps:

Be sure the shade is suited to the use of the lamp. For such tasks as reading, an opaque shade is more desirable than a translucent one. However, for such tasks as putting on make-up, a translucent shade is preferable. All shades should conceal the location of the lighted bulb.

Whatever type or color you choose, be sure the inside of the shade is white. White reflects light best and also reduces glare.

Shades that are a little larger in diameter at the bottom than at the top distribute light up and down more satisfactorily than others.

Look for a diffusing device. It may be one or two metal discs or a glass bowl. Or it may be a wide harp to be used with a diffusion-type incandescent bulb. The diffuser directs some light to the ceiling, which reflects it back as indirect light. This means less glare.

Look for a two or three-way switch. It will permit more flexibility in light quantity than a single switch.

Check the placement of the light bulb socket. It should be slightly below or at the lower edge of the shade to insure a wider spread of light across the task.

Check the height of the lamp. Whether it is to be placed on a low or high table, the height of the table plus the distance from the lamp base to the bottom of the shade should measure 40 to 42 inches from the floor. This will put the bottom of the shade at about the eye level of the seated person. The bottom of a floor lamp shade should generally be about 47 inches from the floor.

tested, will be adjudicated on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of the next succeeding month at 9 a.m.

Antioch Township REPORT OF EXAMINATION Year Ended January 31, 1962

NORMAN S. JEDLE
Certified Public Accountant
February 26, 1962

Mr. L. E. Murre, Supervisor,
Antioch Township,
Antioch, Illinois

The following statements reflect the various cash receipts and disbursements handled during the fiscal year of February 1, 1961 to January 31, 1962 for the various funds for which your office is responsible.

The statements and the examinations preparatory thereto, have been made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and included such tests as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

All cash receipts were traced to the separate depositories and the various funds were reconciled to, and verified by, the banks.

Statements included are:

- Schedule 1 - Summary of Funds
- Schedule 2 - General Town Fund
- Schedule 3 - Poor Fund
- Schedule 4 - Road & Bridge Fund
- Schedule 5 - Black Top Road Improvement Fund
- Schedule 6 - Special Funds

No special mention has been noted as to the various unpaid accounts, as of January 31, 1962, inasmuch as they serve no purpose to you for they are only the same type which recur from month to month. In addition, the statements presented to you have always been prepared on a cash basis, which do not reflect accrued items.

During the year under review the Black Top Road Improvement Fund paid many of the bills previously paid by the Road and Bridge Fund. This was done in order to enable the Road and Bridge Fund to build up an operating cash balance to cover expenses which can't be transferred to the Black Top Road Improvement Fund and to avoid the issuance of tax warrants. However, it appears to destroy the purpose of having a separate fund if it pays bills belonging to another fund.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements present fairly the cash transactions of Antioch Township for the year ended January 31, 1961, on a cash basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Yours very truly,
Norman S. Jedle
Certified Public Accountant

Lindenhurst News

By Mrs. Bernice Barnau
Editor 6-3649

For over an hour Tuesday night, members of the Lindenhurst Junior Police Club were fascinated by the Judo exhibition put on by Police Chief Anthony Schmeig of Highland Park and four boys, about 13 or 14 years of age, whom he has trained. Also, a 10 year old youth who helped him demonstrate how to disarm someone coming at you with a gun or knife.

Chief Schmeig is 40 years old and has been performing Judo for the past 11 years. He wears the black belt, which is the highest degree in Judo. There are five different colored belts worn: white, green, brown, purple and black. They must go through three degrees for each colored belt except the black, which takes ten. A person performing Judo with another, must restrict himself, and can't use more strength than his opponent's belt degrees.

Judo is as old as time itself. Judo means "the easy way." In the Orient Judo is an important sport and is taught in kindergarten. At the start of an exhibition the opponents how to each other, signifying friendship, also at the end of their match. Before the boys are taught Judo, they must learn to fall. Falling is important. They fall on their forearms and feet. The forearms act as shock absorbers. The size and strength of a person means nothing. A little woman who knows the tricks of Judo, can throw a man. Russell Lavin, the 16 year old boy told me he felt so foolish when a little woman threw him. He is quite large for his age and looks as though he could handle himself.

Twins
On March 16 twin boys were born, and then again on April 24, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vrbas of 312 Hazelwood Drive adopted them. The Vrbas have been married 10½ years. Ten months ago they asked for a child at an orphanage, and said that they would welcome twins, if they had a chance. On April 18, they were notified that the boys were theirs and they could get them soon. The boys are identical twins, with red hair. Patrick Brennan weighs 9 pounds 1 ounce. He is named after his mother. Her maiden name was Brennan. Kevin Charles weighs 9 pounds 15 ounces. He is named after his father.

Arbor Day
Pupils at the B. J. Hooper School on Sand Lake Road attended the Arbor Day Service Thursday. Mr. James Bradley, principal, gave a short talk. Arbor Day is a day set apart for the planting of trees, observed especially by school children. The first Arbor Day was celebrated in Nebraska on April 10, 1872. By that time, settlers had cut down most of the trees in Nebraska, having used them in building homes or for firewood. Many had been destroyed in order to clear land for farming. All over the western plains, a traveler could go for miles without seeing a tree. Arbor Day was the idea of J. Sterling Morton, a newspaper publisher in Nebraska City, Neb. People soon began celebrating it throughout the country. Birdseye G. Northrup of Connecticut traveled all over the United States and even to Europe and Asia urging people to plant trees. Every state now celebrates Arbor Day.

Phillip Jackson read the poem "Trees." Later a magnolia tree donated by the Lindenhurst Garden Club was planted.

Card Party
The Lindenhurst Women's Club is having a card party Tuesday, May 8, at the Lindenhurst Civic Center, starting at 8 p.m. Admission also includes refreshments.

New Baby
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gnoske of 221 Briar Lane are the proud parents of their first daughter and third child. Kelly Denise was born April 24 at St. Theresa Hospital. She weighed 7 pounds, 4 ounces. Her big brothers are Kurt, 5, and Eric, 2. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gnoske, Sr., of Lake Zurich, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Okane, of Chicago.

Easter Vacation
Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bechtel and family spent the Easter weekend down home in Granite City, visiting Zelma's mother, Mrs. Ruby Holder, her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Hester and three sisters and four brothers and their families.

Accident
Frankie Loblillo broke his collar bone last week while playing ball. He has since been forced to wear a cast.

Lindenhurst Garden Club
The Lindenhurst Garden Club will hold their monthly meeting at the B. J. Hooper School on Beck and Sand Lake Roads Monday, May 7, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. William Kruse of Ingleside, past president of the Long Lake Garden Club will show colored slides and narrate. Topic will be "New Orleans to Nassau."

Mrs. Sam Loblillo, president, extends an invitation to all residents in the area to attend.

Teenage Club
The Lindenhurst-Venotian Village Teen Age Club will meet Sunday evening, May 6, from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Lindenhurst Civic Center on Old Elm Road. All teenagers in the two villages are invited to join in the scavenger hunt planned for the early part of the evening.

The officers and superiors are anxious to see a big turnout, so they can plan the activities for the coming season. A special thank you to the club from the Men's Club for painting the basement walls a few weeks ago, as a club project. The painters were Chuck Maxwell, Phillip Fabray, Mickey Caldwell and Bill Kaub, Jr.

received rubber drip bath mats. June Simcik and May Hunt received the booky prize, bunny planners.

PLASTIC BAGS
This is just a word of warning. Please keep plastic bags out of the reach of your children. My 2½ month old grand-son pulled a plastic bag into his playpen last week, put it over his head and was turning blue when his mother found him. Not knowing what to do, she ran outside, down the stairs, across the street and up the stairs to a friend. By that time, with all the shaking up he started to come to. He had to spend the night in the hospital, and we thank God he is all right now. You might not be so fortunate. Don't take any chances with your child.

Men's Club
The Lindenhurst Men's Club will meet tonight, May 3, at the Lindenhurst Civic Center on Old Elm Road at 8 p.m. Lyle Mercer, president, invited all men of the village to attend.

Anniversaries
Congratulations to Pearl and Joe LaBarbera of 103 North White Oak Drive on their 16th wedding anniversary, April 30. Incidentally, that also is Pearl's birthday, too. They have two children, Anthony and Carol.

John and Lorraine Grant, of Longmeadow Drive spent their 18th wedding anniversary quietly Sunday afternoon. They have a son, Bob.

NRA
Boys in the 11 to 18 age group of the NRA will meet Wednesday evening at 7:15 p.m. at the Lindenhurst Civic Center.

Ivy Cancer League
Members of the Ivy Cancer League No. 15 met at Mrs. Lu Stanley's home last Thursday. Grace Slove, Mary Shore, Marge Campbell, Frances Prohaska, Dorothy Vordick, Zenia Neumann and myself made plans for the booth we would have at the Block Party June 22 through 24.

Marty Shore showed the adorable stuffed animals that
